

CLAIM OR CLAIMS

031 What I claim as my invention is the addition of a form to allow the pieces of a seam to return more efficiently to their intended positions during installation.

032 What I claim as my invention is the addition of a form to allow the pieces of a seam to return more effectively to their intended positions during installation for a superior reassembly.